

Respect

Respect is showing that you believe that someone or something is important. You can show respect for yourself, others, authority, nature, and property.

Use this definition to complete one of the assignments for expository writing. Make a drawing of your hand to do your prewriting.

